

What are the benefits of employing a nanny?

One of the main reasons why most parents decide to employ a nanny to work in their home is because it gives them the freedom to say exactly how they want their child to be looked after. Including what meals their child will have, the activities and places they will experience, as well as how they will be treated when ill, misbehaving or when they have done something good. You design the job description setting hours etc.

You can also control the physical environment - your home, how many children the nanny looks after (nanny sharing or allowing the nanny to bring their own children along its all up to you. You can even select the type of nanny you want: mature, experienced, out going, traditional, strict, sporty etc

Your child will also receive individual 1 to 1 attention and support plus the day can be planned around your child's interests and developing needs.

Your child is cared for and taught by a trained /experienced childcare professional who is often a mother as well.

Your child has the same carer all day, ever day. Hence there is one person who knows exactly what your child has done, eaten, etc. throughout the day and will record this in a nanny diary or tell you when you get home.

Quality childcare at home may cost more than some day nurseries, but the lower number of children, quality of care and consistency of the carer makes the difference in price worthwhile.

You and your child are treated as individuals rather than being just another child within the large group.
